

FRIENDSHIP QUILTS

What kind of gifts do you make for your friends and family? Some people make friendship quilts as special gifts for friends.

People make friendship quilts with their friends and family, who often sign their names on the quilts or provide pieces of fabric for it. The quilts then became a special reminder of people they love and the time they spent together.

A group of people working on a quilt is called a quilting bee!

Who would come to your quilting bee?
